Intro

_____

BIGONE is a web-based internet solutions provider that aims to assist individuals and corporations through the process of designing and building their own web applications.

BIGONE provides flexibility for its customers to design and publish based on their own preferences, while promoting businesses in a way that stands out from the rest.

The BIGONE Story

————————————————

Starting out as a hobby by helping friends with web related issues, 4 teenagers decided that they wanted to carve their passion into a career path. So they embarked on the BIGONE journey, providing a platform for web users to go to whenever web assistance was required.

..... Pharmacy of The Internet

_____

As Glenn, the founder of BIGONE says, "We are like the pharmacy of the internet where people know and trust us to help them with solving their web issues." Over the years, BIGONE has consistently built up their customer base ranging from individuals to corporations by delivering high-converting sites as well as sustainable app developments.

It is the company's aim to help web users obtain the best results from their websites and applications through a trusted internet solutions provider – BIGONE.

BIGONE Vision

_____

- To be a highly-acclaimed platform providing top-notch services for all web-related issues.

BIGONE Mission

_____

- To ensure high customer satisfaction by providing problem-solving and technical support for web users.

- Ensuring a safe web environment where customers can rest assured   knowing that their websites are in good hands.

- Creating a balanced work environment for employees to exert their best talents and abilities in assisting customers.

About BIGONE

BIGONE begin with the goal of helping web users improve productivity and efficiency of their web experience. Very often, IT and web issues stem from poor coding of a website, causing a domino effect of several other issues to follow.

Seeing a need to analyse and rectify this area, BIGONE made it their mission to help web users minimize such problems by providing more precise and accurate coding for websites, and along the way, rectifying other issues that can cause websites to be hacked or defaced.

..... Unity is Strength

_____

With a strong team of trained professionals, customers can rest assured knowing that the services provided by BIGONE are reliable and cost-effective. The BIGONE team is strong enough to take on and deliver projects related to various aspects of IT and the world wide web, ensuring their customers a smoother web experience.

Over the years, BIGONE has successfully achieved its goal in crafting websites and designing web applications for non-profit organisations, start-up companies, fashion labels and commercial businesses. BIGONE aims to take on more challenges in the coming years, with aspirations of bringing its name to an international level.
